Course Description:

Sixth grade students will study the beginning of early civilizations through the fall of the Roman Empire. Students will study the geographical, social, economic, and political foundations for early civilizations progressing through the Roman Empire. They will analyze the shift from nomadic societies to agricultural societies. Students will study the development of civilizations, including the areas of Mesopotamia, Egypt, India, China, Ancient Israel, Greece, and Rome. The study of these civilizations will include the impact of geography, early history, cultural development, and economic change. The geographic focus will include the study of physical and political features, economic development and resources, and migration patterns. The sixth grade will conclude with the decline and fall of the Roman Empire. This course will be the first concentrated study of world history and geography and will utilize appropriate informational text and primary sources. This course will also teach students about the historical context of ancient and major world religions and will follow a common template for major world religions so as to not promote any religion.

Textbook & Course Materials:

Required Text

World History & Geography: Ancient Civilizations

Recommended Texts & Other Readings or Resources

PowerPoints Presentations, YouTube, Brain Pop videos, and Flocabulary.

Course Requirements:

Following material will be needed by student:

Course Structure:

This class will be a lecture, classroom discussion and hands-on activities. Students are required to participate in discussions on topics taught. There will also be various projects due throughout the year.

Part 2: Student Learning Outcomes:

Social Studies Practices: Students will apply these skills to create and address questions that will guide inquiry and critical thinking. These practices should be regularly applied throughout the year. Students will progress through the inquiry cycle (SSP.01-SSP.04) by analyzing primary and secondary sources to construct and communicate their conceptual understanding of the content standards and to develop historical and geographic awareness (SSP.05- SSP.06).

SSP.01: Collect data and information from a variety of primary and secondary sources, including:

- Printed materials (e.g., literary texts, newspapers, political cartoons, autobiographies, speeches, letters, personal journals)
- Graphic representations (e.g., maps, timelines, charts, photographs, artwork)
- Artifacts
- Media and technology sources

SSP.02: Critically examine a primary or secondary source in order to:

- Extract and paraphrase significant ideas and relevant information
- Distinguish the difference between fact and opinion
- Draw inferences and conclusions
- Recognize author's purpose, point of view, and bias
- Assess the strength and limitation of arguments

SSP.03: Synthesize data from multiple sources in order to:

- Recognize differences among multiple accounts
- Establish validity by comparing and contrasting multiple sources
- Frame appropriate questions for further investigation

SSP.04: Construct and communicate arguments citing supporting evidence to:

- Demonstrate and defend an understanding of ideas
- Compare and contrast viewpoints
- Illustrate cause and effect
- Predict likely outcomes
- Devise new outcomes or solutions

SSP.05: Develop historical awareness by:

- Recognizing how and why historical accounts change over time
- Perceiving and presenting past events and issues as they might have been experienced by the people of the time, with historical empathy rather than present-mindedness
- Evaluating how unique circumstances of time and place create context and contribute to action and reaction
- Identifying patterns of continuity and change over time, making connections to the present

SSP.06: Develop a geographic awareness by:

- Using the geographic perspective to determine relationships, patterns, and diffusion across space at multiple scales (e.g., local, national, global).
- Determining the use of diverse types of maps based on their origin, structure, context, and validity
- Analyzing locations, conditions, and connections of places and using maps to investigate spatial relationships
- Analyzing interaction between humans and the physical environment
- Examining how geographic regions and perceptions of regions are fluid across time and space

Points you receive for graded activities will be posted to the ASPEN GradeBook in a timely manner. Click on the My Grades link on the left navigation to view your points.

Part 5: Course Policies:

Class Attendance:

Students are expected to attend all classes.

Excused Absences:

Students will be given the opportunity to make up missed assignments and tests because of an excused absence. Excused absences include medical appointments and sickness. Students will be responsible for completing missed work within one week of the excuse.

Unexcused Absences:

Students who miss school due to suspension, truancy, travel and/or unexcused must turn in their missed work upon return. If a test happens to fall on the day the student returns to class, he or she will be required to take the test that day.

Participate:

Students are expected to participate in all classroom discussions and activities.

Build Rapport:

If you find that you have any trouble keeping up with assignments or other aspects of the course, make sure you let your teacher know as early as possible. As you will find, building rapport and effective relationships are key to becoming an effective professional. Make sure that you are proactive in informing your teacher when difficulties arise absences during the year so that she. can help you find a solution.

Late Work Policy:

All late homework (when given), projects, and classwork will be subject to a deduction of up to 10 points. Missed tests will need to be completed within one week of the original test date.

Homework Policy:

Homework is not usually assigned, but when assigned it will be purposeful and designed to reinforce the concepts we have covered in class. It should not usually take more than 30 minutes to complete.

Acceptability of Written Work:

All work must be neatly done in legible handwriting. Unless otherwise specified, I prefer students' work to be submitted in hard copy form, not electronically.

Academic Dishonesty Policy:

Academic dishonesty consists of the following: Cheating, copying from your neighbor/friend, leaving out a source citation.

Plagiarism is a form of stealing and academic fraud. Students who are found guilty of plagiarism will have the option of either redoing the assignment within a specific time period and accepting a grade letter drop or taking a zero on the assignment.

* Course policies are subject to change: It is the student's responsibility to check for corrections or updates to the syllabus. Any changes will be posted in the classroom.

Student Testing Code of Ethics and Security:

It is important for you as a student to know that the following guidelines are to be strictly followed. This year the TNReady test will count at least 10% of your final semester grade. Your work on this test is very important and it deserves your best effort.

I understand that during testing on the days of the assessment, I am responsible for:

- Not having any electronic devices on me or in my purse/backpack/pockets
 - Including but not limited to cell phones, smart phones, smart watches, etc. during testing or during breaks.
 - Best practice is for students to leave devices at home or in their lockers on the day of testing.
 - If I am caught with a device during testing or during breaks, my test may be nullified, resulting in a zero as at least 10% of my final semester grade, and any school level disciplinary action as deemed appropriate by the administration.
- Trying my best on the test
 - If I do not attempt to test (I give no answers or randomly answer questions) my test score may be nullified, resulting in a zero as at least 10% of my final semester grade, and any school level disciplinary action as deemed appropriate by the administration.
 - The testing administrators and proctors in the testing environment will determine if no answers or random answering is taking place.

- o I will focus and put forth effort on the test.
- Being honest and not cheating
 - o If I am caught cheating (taking pictures of the test, writing down and passing answers, talking to other students, looking on other computers, using software outside the testing platform), my test may be nullified, resulting in a zero as at least 10% of my final semester grade, and any school level disciplinary action as deemed appropriate by the administration.
